Mrs. Douglas Martin Webb

Mrs. Bryan Kenneth Selz

Mrs. David G. Heath

Mrs. Brodrick Carlton Cox

Miss Franklin is wed to Mr. Webb

Shelia Jo Franklin became the bride of Douglas Martin Webb on June 14, 1980, at 11 a.m., at Rocks Baptist Church, Pamplin. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen E. Franklin. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin L. Webb, all of Appomattox.

Rev. A.M. Taylor, pastor of the church, and Rev. P. Edward Leonard, a pastor of Memorial United Methodist Church, Appomattox, performed the double-ring ceremony.

A program of nuptial music for the ceremony was provided by Miss Christine Dickerson, of Pamplin, the organist. Mrs. Kathy Vaughan, of Spout Spring, sang "Time in a Bottle," "The Wedding Song," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Escorted by her father, and given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a gown of nylon organza and chantilly lace. The bodice was made completely of lace and appliques of lace and seed pearls were scattered throughout the sleeves and skirt. Wide borders of lace trimmed the organdy ruffle at the bottom and formed a chapel train. Her matching juliet cap, with a mantilla style veil attached, was covered with chantilly lace. The bride also wore an heirloom string of pearls belonging to the groom's mother which she wore on her wedding day. She carried a bouquet of silk daisies and ivy with baby's breath.

Mrs. Margie Franklin, of Appomattox, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a floor length gown of navy blue French voile. The empire bodice had a scoop neckline which was worn off the shoulder and was finished with three rows of ruffles edged in red. A string sash of red encircled the high rise waistline. She wore a red picture hat.

She carried a bouquet of silk blue daisies and ivy, with red streamers.

Other attendents were Miss Jane Almond, of Pamplin, cousin of the bride, maid of honor, Mrs. Newlyn Morris, of Appomattox, and Miss Michelle Ford, of Concord, bridesmaids. Their gowns, hats and bouquets were identical to the matron of honor.

Miss Elizabeth Anne Speck, of Dumfries, Va., cousin of the groom, was flower girl. She was dressed in white and wore a garland of miniature silk daisies in her hair. She carried a lace basket of rose petals.

The groom wore a gray stroller coat with a silk red rosebud boutonniere. Martin L. Webb, of Appomattox, father of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Randall A. Franklin, of Appomattox, brother of the bride, Oden K. Semones, of Roanoke, and Gary D. Hudson, of Pamplin. They wore gray stroller coats with a silk white carnation boutonniere with red highlights.

Master John William Webb, II, of Richmond, cousin of the groom, was ring bearer. He wore a white suit with a minature silk boutonniere identical to that of the ushers.

Miss Davis is wed to Mr. Selz

The marriage of Miss Loretta Darlene Davis and Bryan Kenneth Selz took place Saturday, May 31, 1980, at 4 p.m. in Amelia Baptist Church in Amelia, Virginia. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stephen Davis, Jr. of Amelia. He is the son of Mrs. B. N. Selz and the late Mr. Selz of Concord.

The Rev. Terry Sharpe, pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Escorted by her father and given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore an ivory gown styled with a Victorian collar, empire waistline and full sleeves made of English net, chiffon, Brussels and Alencon lace with scattered pearls, sequins and shiffli embroidery. Her chapel length train was made of English net with deep borders and scattered appliques of Brussels lace alternating with layers of accordion pleated chiffon. Her chapel length veil of illusion fell from a Juliet cap of Brussels lace.

Mrs. Denise Davis Yanoska was her sister-in-law's honor attendant. Bridesmaids were: Mrs. Debbie Davis Deskins; Miss Laurie Selz; Miss Debbie Southall; and Miss Laura Sidener. All wore formal gowns of sea green chiffon and carried nosegays of gladiola and miniature carnations.

Mr. Phillip C. Harris was best man. Groomsmen were Mr. Lannis N. Selz; Mr. F. Stephen Davis, III; Mr. Michael S. Gallier; and Mr. David A. Jones.

Miss Stephanie Nichole Deskins, niece of the bride, was flower girl.

Miss Patricia Ann Davis and Michael Weaver were candlelighters, with Mrs. Sandra Wade, organist and F. Stephen Davis, III, flute, offering the wedding music.

The couple will make their home in Richmond, Virginia.

An easy way to prevent those bathtub accidents

By SHIRLEY WALTON
Extension Agent

Those stick-on safety flowers which can be purchased at any drug store are an easy inexpensive way to make your bathtub slip-resistant, but what can you do when, after a couple of years of service, these flowers start to peel around the edges, disintegrate or otherwise look scrungy.

The solution to this dilemma is really very simple if your bathtub is porcelin enamel. Just saturate a cloth in kerosene or mineral spirits, paint thinner, and lay it over the flowers for about 20 to 30 minutes. Then use a single edge razor blade in one of the holders available from almost gorge or cut the plastic finish. If you have not used something to make your tub slip-resistant, this is a good method and an attractive way to make you tub safer for your family to use.

If you have a homemaking question or problem, you may call the Appomattox County Extension Office at 352-8244 or write us at P. O. Box 488, Appomattox, VA 24522.

Homemakers, have a good week!

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Disaster protection available

By TOM CONRAD

Farmers who accurately report crop acreages and sign up to participate in the farm program will not only be eligible for price support benefits and deficiency payments, they will also be eligible to receive disaster protection.

The 1980 program provides for disaster payments to help farmers whose crops are severely damaged by weather conditions.

Farmers who plant within their normal crop acreage (NCA) will be eligible to receive disaster payments based on a higher target level than those who exceed their NCA.

Wheat and feed grain producers whose crop yield is less than 60 percent of the established yield times the acreage planted for harvest may receive disaster payments on the production losses below 60 percent.

Appomattox County farmers should notify the ASCS office if they expect low yields on their wheat or barley crops due to severe weather conditions.

Farmers will also be eligible for disaster payments when they are prevented from planting a program crop for harvest because of a natural disaster. However, planting of other later non-conserving crops must also have been prevented due to a disaster.

Farmers should notify the county office before harvesting or destroying acreage, or replanting to other crops when a disaster strikes. Accurate acreage and production reports must be maintained to assure full program benefits.

The program offers crop protection against drought, flood, hail, windstorm, insect infestation, plant disease or any other type of disaster which occurs through no fault of the farmer.

All farmers are urged to report their planted acreages for corn, soybeans and grain sorghum by June 30 so they may be eligible for program benefits.

Loan rates by grades which producers will receive for 1980-crop flue-cured tobacco delivered for support range from 87 cents to $1.82 a pound.

The rates are the same for tied and untied tobacco.

The rates reflect an average suport of $1.415 a pound, about 9.4 percent above 1979. Changes in 1980 grade rates range from 5 cents to 17 cents above 1979 rates. On Feb. 27, the U. S. Department of Agriculture asked for comments on the proposed price support rates for 1980-crop flue-cured tobacco.

Eight grades of flue-cured which received price support under past programs will not be supported in 1980 because those grades are in excessive supply and have light demand. The grades that will not be supported are F5L, F5F, F5G, N1L, N1XL, N1GL, N1XO and N1PO.

Loan rates will be discounted 10 percent for any grade of the supported primings group which contain moderately more dirt or sand than normal. Tobacco containing excessive sand or dirt will be graded No-G (no grade).

As in the past, no loans will be available on any tobacco grade No-G, No-G-F, N2 (second quality nondescript), W (doubtful keeping order), U (Unsound), or scrap. Marketings of these grades, however, will be charged against the quotas for the farms on which they were produced.

Flies & livestock: coping with the problem

By JAMES A. SMITH
Extension Agent

Flies are taking their toll on livestock, particularly beef and dairy animals. There are two kinds that need to be dealt with-horn flies and face flies. Self applicating dust bags, if managed properly, will give you the most for your money. Remember, horn flies are relatively easy to control while face flies are, at best, difficult. Two reasons: face flies are larger and tougher; they move from cow-to-cow, herd-to-herd and even leave the animal to rest in cool shady areas. The horn fly is smaller, lives on the cow, day and night, its entire adult life. Therefore, it's easier for the smaller fly to pick up a lethal dose of insecticide.

Dust bags that you buy from the store are closely woven and just will not put enough dust-use a nail or pocket knife to make the holes larger and more frequent. Height that the bag is hung is critical to a successful fly control program. Suspend the bag low-18 to 22 inches from the ground.

Cattle must be forced to use the bags. Diarymen can easily treat their cows as they leave the milking parlor. Beef producers will need to use them at entrances of mineral feeders or for calves-creep feeders. One 12.5 pound bag is all you need. The more dust that goes on the animal, the higher level of control you can expect.

For details on kinds of insecticide dusts that are recommended in Virginia, ask for a copy of the recommendations from this office.

• • •

If there is a group of dairy or beef heifers that are away from the main farm activities, you may find that using a Rabon insecticide ear tag is the most satisfactory. For optimum control, use two tags.

These tags are very effective against horn flies, but only an acid for controlling face flies.

There are some strict precautions about this tag use-read the directions.

The South 40

Horse owners are advised to take pregnant mares off fescue pasture 60 days before foaling. There are four reasons for this: Agalactia, abortion, abnormally thick and tough placentas and prolonged gestations.

• • •

Already the calls are coming in asking what to do about blossom end rot on tomatoes. First of all, it probably reflects a low soil pH. Take a soil sample and if lime is needed, put it on this fall.

This doesn't help the current crop, so we spray with calcium chloride at the rate of four level teaspoons per gallon of water. Make three applications a week apart.

• • •

While we are on tomatoes, it's a good time to remind growers that if blight is to be controlled, start a weekly spray program when the plant starts blooming. There are a number of fungicides that can be used: Dyrene, Maneb, Zineb, Captan or BRAVO. Don't use Maneb or Zineb later than five days before harvest. At that time, you may like to switch products, but continue spraying and more even often if rains are frequent.
